

SECR Compliance made easy

Streamlined Energy and Compliance (SECR) Reporting - is your organisation affected?

What is SECR?

The UK government introduced Streamlined Energy and Carbon Reporting (SECR) in 2019. This legislation promotes energy efficiency across organisations, reducing carbon emissions and supporting the UK's environmental goals. SECR mandates carbon and energy reporting for a wider range of organisations than ever before, encouraging them to implement energy saving measures.

Do you need to comply with SECR?

Large companies meeting two or more of the following criteria are required to comply:

- Turnover of £36 millions or more
- Balance sheet total of £18 million or more
- 250 or more employees

Quoted Companies

Companies listed on major exchanges (London, NYSE, NASDAQ, EEA) must comply with SECR if they already report greenhouse gas emissions in their Directors' Report.

Large unquoted companies and large limited liability partnerships (LLPs)

SECR also applies to "large" companies required to report greenhouse gas emissions in their Directors' Report under the 2018 regulations.

How to comply with SECR

SECR mandates disclosure of energy use and emissions from UK electricity, gas and vehicle fuel in a public Directors' Report (companies) or an Energy and Carbon Report (LLPs).

Experts in energy efficiency and sustainability

SECR to opportunity

Streamlined Energy and Carbon Reporting (SECR) offers a valuable path to improved energy efficiency and cost savings. By identifying areas of high consumption, you can implement targeted measures and achieve measurable reductions in energy expenditure. Studies indicate a typical 20% annual decrease in energy through effective management practices. Simple upgrades like lighting and building control systems can also deliver significant financial benefits.
